Growing up in East Africa, it was easy to see the impact of Nazarene giving to ministry. All around me, churches and congregations were growing, leaders were emerging, and compassionate ministry centers were caring for the sick and hurt—especially those afflicted with HIV/AIDS. Because of the World Evangelism Fund, thousands have heard the gospel in places like churches, home groups, after-school programs, football—soccer—fields, radio air waves, text message, clinics and hospitals, compassionate ministry centers, music halls and performances, JESUS Film showings, breaking news alerts, e-mail notifications, and the prayer mobilization line.

In my home country, we can't speak the name of God without fear. I lead a church from my own home, yet we are still persecuted. Ministry is difficult here. Before we can share the good news with our neighbors, we have to meet their needs and gain their trust. The gifts we received from the World Evangelism Fund sustain our work through the good times and the hard times. The connective ministry of the Church of the Nazarene enables us to interact with the districts that communicate with us, pray for us, and support our ministry with their resources. Thank you for generations of giving to World Evangelism Fund.

Nazarenes have the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of others. Lives like mine... as a sponsored child, I was given a chance to be free from the barriers of poverty. The encouragement from the missionaries—and the hope I have in Jesus Christ—kept me motivated to graduate and start my own business. I always keep my stereo tuned to Nazarene radio and customers ask me about the programs. I tell them that God, through the Church of the Nazarene, changed my life and heart. As others did for me, today I sponsor a child. I am preparing another generation to live a life that glorifies God. When I give my tithes and offerings, I know that part of it supports our global mission.
